

The Book Club Report for AGM – March 2020

The book club has continued to meet once a month usually at Mary's house and a wide range of novels have been discussed. To give an example of the range we have varied from Paula Gooder's "Phoebe", a tale of a first century woman in biblical times to a Bernie Gunther detective story "March Violets", by Philip Kerr, set in Berlin before the war via a terrific recent read "A Gentleman in Moscow" by Amor Towles which was the story of an aristocratic Russian caught up in the 1920's Russia with the revolution just under way.

These are great evenings of discussion, sharing thoughts and just fun as we talk about the book. We are very grateful to Mary for allowing us to use her house (and also to Sylvia and Moira when Mary was away) and to all who come and make the evenings so enjoyable.

It is with sadness that we note that one of our stalwarts died recently. Wyn Blake was a great supporter of the book club and she and her happy joyful presence are much missed.
