Healthcare teams are working incredibly hard to vaccinate everyone as fast as possible.

Our local programme is now fully underway, but please don't be worried if you or a family member are in one of the priority groups but have not heard from us yet. You might know someone who has already been invited, but that doesn't mean that you are a lower priority - within each 'group', people are called in an order that reflects their 'vulnerability' (which includes underlying conditions as well as age).

We very much understand that you may feel anxious while waiting your turn, but you do not need to contact your GP surgery as you will be contacted when it is your turn to have the vaccine.

I've received a vaccination invite for the Centre for Life, which is too far for me to travel. Will I be able to get one closer to home in North Tyneside?

Some people will get invitations to attend the new vaccination service at The Centre for Life in Newcastle, so that we can immunise as many people as possible.

You do not have to attend this service if you cannot travel safely, have poor mobility, or would prefer to wait for a local appointment from your GP-led service.

Rest assured your invite for your local centre won't be far behind - please don't contact your GP (phone lines are extremely busy right now).
